

To: The NIEHS

Please help stop animal testing by banning the LD50 test. There are numerous alternatives which are more humane and in the long run, more effective and meaningful. I applaud the progress already made and look forward to further advances in eliminating animal research.